

Zerto Express Installation Service

Production workloads need to be up and running fast to protect revenue, brand, reputation, and customer experience.

Overview

The Zerto Express Installation Service is a cost-effective, remote service that ensures Zerto Virtual Replication has been effectively configured to maximize your investment. With this service, Zerto consultants ensure production workloads are protected while providing valuable knowledge transfer in the context of your production environment. This service is suitable for both Standard and Enterprise Cloud Edition (ECE) licenses, but does not include implementing the ECE features such as one to many replication.

Depending on your license, with this service you get:

- Hybrid VMware vSphere, Microsoft Hyper-V, Azure, or Amazon Web Services data protection capability
- Zerto Virtual Replication configured to your specific environment
- Workloads that are protected and ready for disaster recovery
- Knowledge transfer that provides a deep understanding of the product and processes
- A consistent, repeatable process for data protection

Benefits

With the Zerto Express Installation Service, you ensure you have a solid configuration to meet your business needs for business continuity, disaster recovery or migrations:

- Effectively support business objectives with Zerto Virtual Replication configured to meet your specific requirements
- Maximize investment with an accurately configured environment and a trained staff
- Accelerate time to value with a fast deployment

Zerto Virtual Replication is the industry's first hypervisor-based replication solution which delivers recovery point objectives of seconds and recovery time objectives of minutes, ensuring applications are up and running fast. With the Zerto Express Installation service, you ensure an accurate installation to meet your organization's business requirements. Leveraging Zerto Experts, you gain insight and expertise, ensuring long-term success with your deployment.
